VISION

Handmade Luxury

Burly Knits is a luxury atelier that produces the highest quality handmade blankets, accessories and garments with the goal of keeping traditional skills thriving and valid. In a time when instant supply rules all, and desire is spontaneous, we are consciously taking the scenic route. Our expert skills combine with passion and the finest materials to craft heirloom quality products meant to be loved and enjoyed for a lifetime. We love what we do, we love sharing what we do.

LUXURY

A Definition of Quality

What does luxury mean at Burly Knits? It quite simply means, using the best sourced fibres and trimmings and spending time to hand make beautiful bespoke and functional items for personal enjoyment. Luxury means our hands have created these items and every stitch is considered and inspired. Luxury is a return to quality and dedication of craft, made locally in a real artisan studio.

THE BURLY STORY

Burly Knits is Handmade Luxury personified; a return to time honoured skills and mastery of trade, where every detail is considered and complimented by hand techniques for lasting heirloom quality textiles and accessories.

True Luxury at Burly Knits means beauty, quality, integrity and comfort, where only the finest natural fibres and materials are artfully combined to offer timeless elegant and approachable results. The true definition of luxury is bespoke handwork, master level artisanal skill and supreme quality of materials and finishing techniques, where the integrity of the art is never compromised, and the beauty and function reign supreme.

It all began when James Crispin Janz the creative man behind Burly Knits, began to craft the pieces he could not find anywhere else. Soon this passion for knitting, crochet, knotting, weaving and hand stitching became yet another creative pursuit of his, and he set out to teach himself each technique and to express excellence and mastery at every level. Coming from the world of design, architecture and interior architecture, James brings his multi-disciplinary editors eye and over thirty years of industry experience to all aspects of his textile designs and the creation of every piece from the atelier.

Every item is envisioned, designed and made by hand, stitch by stitch, piece by piece by James himself in his Canadian design studio, where he is free to explore the infinite flow of creative ideas and the endless possibilities of inspiration that he draws from his diverse interests and passions.

Everyone deserves to have beauty and quality in their lives, especially when it is handmade.

KNITTED FUR

FUR ETHICS

All of the fur sourced and used at Burly Knits is certified as ethical, meaning that it has been procured by authentic Canadian Trappers making a living from working with the abundance of the natural landscape and environment of Canada; harvesting what the land can yield and sustain naturally with time honoured traditions and respect. Other furs are sourced from North American or European ranches, that ethically raise and treat all animals with respect. Burly Knits only uses fur from Canadian Dressers that are members of the following Certification Organizations:

- the fur institute of Canada
- association of fish and wildlife agencies international
- council for game an wildlife management
- international union for conservation of nature
- international fur federation
- furmark sustainable natural fur

We believe in using only natural materials, that are truly sustainable, and ethically obtained through proper channels. Wool, fur, shell, gemstones, and metal appear in our work, and represent the best of the best. Nothing can compare to the softness of Alpaca wool, the fineness of merino wool, the esteemed and respected luxury of fur, and the beauty of gemstone and metal embellishments. Our mission is to bring beauty to the world one piece at a time, using time honoured human hand skills and mastery working with the finest natural materials.

We are reintroducing what true luxury and mastery means through useful and meaningful creations.

From the heart, consciously created with the highest standards, by hand.

Our fur pelts undergo a bespoke process transforming them into knittable yarn. Soft and flowing, weightless and feather-like, a blanket emerges that is truly knit; in partnership with those earning a living from eons of established tradition.

Fur is eternal, natural, sustainable and ethical.

We honour the beauty and value of our fur resources.

QUALITY

At Burly Knits all items are made by hand, and either hand knitted, finished by hand or partially constructed using a vintage punch card hand manipulated knitting machine. Analogue rules! All items are shipped out locally or Internationally via Courier Service from showrooms. All Sales are full payment upon order placement, sales are final, and freight charges, taxes are extra. We stand behind the quality, performance and integrity of every item we design and manufacture at our studio in Canada.

EXPERIENCE

All blankets and products come complete with a signature, brass engraved label with our secret message, wrapped with a bow, care instructions, and tag of authenticity, dated and signed by Burly.

CARE & WASHING

Best to be hand washed using the recommended gentle conditioning soap 'eucalan'. When hand washing gently squeeze out excess water and lay flat on a towel forming it to the stated dimensions. When dry gently steam iron on wool setting to perfect the shape and stitch relief, starting on the reverse side and finishing on the front side. All blankets and products are pre-washed and steam blocked to perfection. Fur items cannot be washed.

Our hand engraved brass label is uncoated and meant to develop a rich and natural patina over time. Ensure that it is not submerged in water for extended periods of time and dried off immediately to prevent any potential discolouration of surrounding fibres.
